

WEDDING EXAMPLE WAS CONTAGIOUS

Edward Walker Harden, Best Man at Frank C. Vanderlip's Nuptials, to Lead Mr. Vanderlip's Sister to the Altar.

A ROMANCE OF FRIENDSHIP.

Mr. Harden Fell Deeply in Love with Miss Ruth Isabel Vanderlip While Attending Her Brother's Marriage Recently.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—The wedding of Miss Ruth Isabel Vanderlip, sister of Frank C. Vanderlip, former Comptroller of Currency and now Vice-President of the National City Bank, of New York, to Edward Walker Harden, of New York, will be celebrated here to-night in the Church of the Redeemer. The Rev. Frank Der Moulton will perform the ceremony. Mrs. Vanderlip, who has just returned from a European honeymoon, will act as matron of honor.

Miss Pauline Terry will be maid of honor, and there will be no bridesmaids. John T. McCutcheon will serve as best man, and the ushers will be Benjamin Bailey, of Bedford, Pa.; Frank J. Carls, of St. Louis, Mo.; Harry Sinker, of Philadelphia, and Charles Rich, of New York. Miss Bertha Allen, of Williamsport, Pa., a cousin of the bride, will sing the wedding music from Lohengrin.

Mr. and Mrs. Harden will leave for an extended wedding journey, after which they will be at home at No. 22 West Ninety-seventh street, New York.

The wedding is the culmination of a romance which began at Mr. Vanderlip's wedding. Mr. Harden and Mr. Vanderlip had been newspaper men and chums for many years. Both entered the Government service. Mr. Vanderlip as Comptroller and Mr. Harden as a special agent of the Treasury Department.

Mr. Harden was on his way to Manila to compile a report of Oriental trade conditions when Admiral Dewey's fleet was ordered to Manila Bay. He accompanied a commission to act as a correspondent of the New York World, and his report of the battle of Manila was the first to reach the United States. Returning to this country he edited a New York business publication and later engaged in business in Wall street.

When Mr. Vanderlip was married last spring Mr. Harden came to Chicago with him to act as best man. Under an agreement the young man had made years ago that the first to marry should enjoy a honeymoon at the expense of the other. Mr. Vanderlip and his bride were Mr. Harden's guests on their European trip.

While here as Mr. Vanderlip's guest Mr. Harden renewed an old acquaintance with Miss Vanderlip, whom he had not seen for years. They proved so attractive to each other that Mr. Harden returned to New York arrangements had been made for the wedding, which was delayed until to-day that Mr. Vanderlip and his bride might attend.

ACCUSED OF KIDNAPPING.

Man and Woman Arrested Upon the Arrival of the Troy Boat.

Acting on information contained in a telegram received from Inspector J. E. Kink, of Saratoga, Detective Sergeant Becker and Brann, of the Central Office, to-day arrested George Greene and Carrie Allen, both colored, on a charge of kidnapping.

The couple were arrested on board the Troy boat, which arrived at the foot of Tenth street, North River, at 8:30 A. M. They had with them a fifteen-year-old girl, also colored, who said she was Martha Deryck, of Saratoga. The man and woman were held to await the arrival of officers from Saratoga.

KAISER WINS IN STORM.

In Nimble War He Leads Saxons Against Prussians During Tempest.

HALLE, Prussia, Sept. 8.—A wild storm of wind and rain at the army maneuvers made wireless telegraphy impossible. Emperor William, at 6 o'clock this morning, in command of two Saxon army corps, attacked the opposing Prussian army corps with ferocity, stormed several of the Prussian positions and compelled the Prussians to retire.

Slender Slayer of Vermont Man Escaped the Police.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Sept. 8.—The police of this city were notified to-day that Peter Vorse, had been shot and killed from ambush in East Montpelier. The assailant fled.

BURIED IN TRAIN WRECK.

GREENSBURG, Pa., Sept. 8.—A loaded passenger train on the Pennsylvania road running at a high rate of speed broke and ran together at Conover & Hunt's Works, east of here, to-day, crushing a number of cars and blocking both tracks for several hours. Conductor Singer was caught and had both legs badly crushed. A tramp who was sleeping in a side car was caught and buried under the cars, but was rescued alive. It is thought that there are two other tramps under the debris.

NEW CHILDREN'S COURT IS OPENED

Building Formerly a Dance Hall, but Now Justice Robert J. Wilkin Resides There to Dispense Justice.

A big gilded sign with dazzling gold letters "Children's Court" in front of No. 102 Court street, Brooklyn, caught the eye of woman, man and child this morning. It was the signboard of the new Brooklyn Children's Court and directed the public to an old dance hall above. The Apollo, it was called, but is the Apollo no longer. Paupered in the full majesty of the law the dance hall that was in now the place where justice is dispensed to the young with a hand tempered with a mercy befitting the tender ages of those who stand before the bar and hear the words of the law's arbiter.

Justice Robert J. Wilkin, formerly Superintendent of the Brooklyn Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, presided. He is new to his job, but he conducted himself to-day in such a business-like way that he had no difficulty in going through the list of cases or, which he had to pass judgment. He showed that merciful spirit which has always marked his actions toward children and put aside the public institution as often as was possible. He counseled with the young ones, advised their parents to show greater clemency, told a step-mother that she should use better wisdom in the handling of her son and laid down such rules as those on whom his counsel fell will find in all the good books which set righteousness and honesty as the primal attributes of good living.

The First Offender.

Henry Weiss was the first offender sent to the Children's Court. He is a ragged little chap, about eleven years old, squint-eyed and gifted with a silence that would shame the Sphinx. A probation officer was called, and the Justice told him to advise Henry into right thinking and right doing.

Leo Rollison is a boy whose penchant was for being in a crowd which throws stones at windows. Leonard was not the sort to run away and live to talk another day. So he had to be talked to by a probation officer, who helped him along with a new code of morals.

Evelyn Mitchell, whose mother declared that she was not a good girl and would not stay at home, received a lecture from the Justice, who finally persuaded the mother to give the girl another chance. Evelyn is a pretty brunette of fourteen.

And so the day went on, case after case being passed with celerity and dispatch. When the session was over all that part of Brooklyn which has occasion to find itself represented before such courts as Justice Wilkin's, was congratulating itself upon the mildness and the mercy of this new addition to those who set the law's decrees.

Power for Railways and Lighting for Three Towns Supplied.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 8.—The Hudson River Water Power Company has put in operation the mammoth power plant at Spier Falls and to-day began the delivery of power to the towns of Glens Falls, Saratoga and Ballston for lighting purposes. The company is supplying power to the Hudson Valley Railway for the running of cars over fifty miles of the company's road, and on Friday 10,000 horsepower will be delivered to the General Electric Company at Schenectady.

Three generators of 5,000 horse-power each are now running, and seven more of the same capacity will be put in operation as fast as possible. The company has contracts to furnish practically all of the electricity used for power and lighting purposes in Troy and Albany.

The trial has been set for Sept. 14.

GIRL DROWNED BOATING.

(Special to The Evening World.) NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 8.—Little Mies, sixteen years old, of No. 1300 Thirteenth street, Richmond, Va., was drowned in the Passaic River at Belleville while boating. Miss Mies was visiting relatives at No. 246 Main street, Belleville. Her body was recovered.

THREW HIMSELF FROM NINTH FLOOR

John Sauer, Evidently Deranged, Deceived by His Calmness, Those Who Would Restrain Him and Plunged to Death.

HAD BEEN ACTING QUEERLY.

Fall Broke Every Bone in His Body and He Died a Few Minutes After Being Carried to the Hospital.

After struggling with six workmen, who tried to hold him, John Sauer, a screamer employed in what is known as the Second Sugar House, in Williamsburg, broke away from them, ran to a window and jumped out. Every bone in his body was broken, and he died in the Eastern District Hospital a few minutes later.

Sauer had been acting queerly for a week. He told the superintendent of the factory strange yarns, and asked him to take care of some nine hundred dollars which he said he was afraid to leave at his home for fear his family would get it.

The superintendent advised him to put it in the bank. He did this yesterday. To-day he reported for work and went to his place on the ninth floor. The other workmen noticed his peculiar actions. Twice he climbed out on the window-sill before his fellows, fearing he would do away with himself, seized him.

He became quiet and asked them what they meant. Mistaken by his calmness, they relaxed their hold and Sauer broke away, ran to the window and jumped. He leaves a widow and family at No. 165 Graham avenue.

SLEUTHS ROUND UP MANY CROOKS

Wanted Them to Pose Before a Photographer for a Collection of Faces Often Consulted in Mulberry Street.

EVEN DOZEN ARE ARRESTED.

Three Were Caught in a Bowery Restaurant by Detective Sergeants Who Went There to Enjoy a Late Supper.

McCluskey's sleuths were busy last night rounding up crooks for the purpose of getting new half tones of their ever changing physiognomies, with the result that a dozen men with records had stings in the Mulberry street photographic studio to-day. After they had posed they were taken to the Centre street court and discharged.

When the Headquarters sleuths were sent out last night they were not instructed to arrest any particular crook, but to nab any they came across whose photo was needed.

Detective Sergeants Kinaird, Clarke and Peabody went into a restaurant on the Bowery for a late supper. While eating they noticed a group at a nearby table that attracted their attention. In this group were three men with records: George Long, who left Sing Sing two months ago after serving a ten years' sentence; Timothy Boardman, who has been arrested several times, and Hush Bradley, who was arrested only last Friday on the suspicion of being a pickpocket.

In a flash the detectives pounced upon the three men, and after a sharp struggle, handcuffed them and took them to Police Headquarters. Long had not been photographed for ten years, Boardman had not taken well and Hush Bradley had grown dundrearies since his last photo. These were the only offenses charged against them, but they were looked up to the night, and with only others were taken to the studio to-day, after being photographed the men were placed on a raised platform and exhibited for the benefit of all the recently appointed Hawkshaw. After the exhibition they were driven to court and discharged.

STRIKE ON COURT-HOUSE.

Rival Unions of Painters Disagree and Work Is Stopped.

Because Sub-contractor Bents, who is acting for Louis Wechsler in the work of repainting the Court House, refused to discharge two men belonging to the Brotherhood of Painters, thirty-five members of the National Association of Amalgamated Painters, Decorators and Paper Hangers of America quit work to-day.

The strike is the outcome of a dispute between the Brotherhood of Painters and the Amalgamated Painters, to which is the real union. The Brotherhood of Painters belongs to the new Board of United Building Trades, which has accepted the employers' arbitration scheme, and their walking delegates, Gaetano and Brann, visited the court-house yesterday and announced that as ten Brotherhood men had not been put to work a strike would be ordered.

Victor Burr, President of the Amalgamated Painters' Union, is in charge of the work at the court-house, and when he heard of the walking delegates' actions he requested the immediate discharge of the two Brotherhood men, who were at work, which was refused. Until the dispute is settled the work is at a standstill.

"CHESTY," DEVERY'S WORD, IS ACCEPTED.

Latest Edition of Standard Dictionary Has This Expression Defined as United States Slang.

That eminent citizen William Stephen Devery may not attain to his aspiration of being Mayor, but to-day he is proud in the possession of the knowledge that he has enriched the language with the word "chesty."

The latest edition of the Standard

Dictionary contains the word used by the Chief in describing Inspector, then Captain, George McCluskey, when he removed him from the head of the Detective Bureau and sent him to the great district of the Bronx. The word in the dictionary is defined as follows:

"Chesty—Chest-y, pronounced chest-i, (slang U. S.); manifesting aggressive self-conceit; bumptiousness; affected; pretentious."

Devery, perhaps, did not realize when he called McCluskey "Chesty George" that he meant all this, but now that it is in cold type he will have to stand for it.

Don't Poison Baby.

Forty years ago almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Drugs are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrup," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
